Preparing for the 2018-19 Church Year

I've spent the first part of this week preparing materials for our Nominating Committee which is beginning their ministry of connecting volunteers with places of service for the 2018-19 Church Year. It has brought me great joy to read your names, noting how you're using your gifts for ministry in and through our church. As I've pictured you teaching your adult Sunday School class, preparing a meal, caring for our property, changing a diaper(!) and so much more, I've offered thanks to God for each of you. Your ministry is highly valued and greatly appreciated. Thank you!

As we look toward to the beginning of a new Church Year, I hope you'll prayerfully consider how you're using your gifts for ministry. Are you feeling called to continue serving in the same way? Are you being called to something different and new? Is there a ministry our church is not engaged in that you'd like us to consider? And would you be willing to lead us in that? What ways might you serve that would bring you the great joy?

As you consider your answers to these questions, I hope you will joyfully await a contact from a member of the Nominating Committee. And when that contact is made, I hope you'll share with him/her your answers and let him/her know how you'd like to use your gifts for ministry in the new Church Year which begins September 1, 2018.

Grace & peace,
